

■ In this Corona Virus Environment maintaining “balance” is fundamental before embarking on a Career Transition.

On the following page I have prepared two visuals to offer an approach to achieve a “balance” before you embark on a Career Transition.

I would welcome discussions to briefly discuss how Maslow’s Hierarchy of Needs unfolds with your input to initiate a building block approach to achieve “BALANCE.”

Go to my web site Walk-about.us to email me and see other resources that would help on your journey that are in the public domain and are free.

The excerpts of the 4 Life Roles on the following slide are from Chapter 2 P31 in the Walkabout Career Transition Guide.

(see Walk-about.us web site for more information On purchasing the Self Paced Guide & or Coaching)

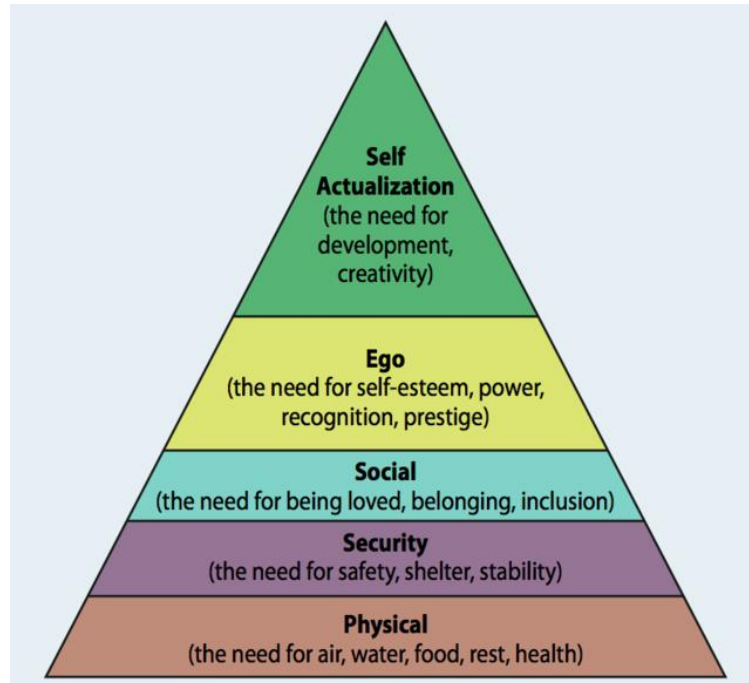

PROFILE
DEVELOPMENT
ASSOCIATES, LLC.
CREATING CAREER PATHWAYS

Start here and work your way up the pyramid.

BEFORE you initiate your Career Transition

- What aspects do you find in today's Corona Environment that are stable?
- What aspects of these elements knock you off your stride at this point in time?

Start from the bottom and work up

Current State

What Life Role is included in most Career Decisions?

What roles get left out or are not on your radar?

In Walkabout Career Decisions PURPOSE should drive your direction!

1. This may initially be hard because it requires a new perspective
2. This perspective brings out your skills, energy, desire and capability within the 4 Life Roles
3. This challenges what is important to you
4. It becomes something that cannot be postponed
5. The PURPOSE will evolve because Careers don't have expiration dates!